Description

Look no further! This Lowcountry cottage has all the comfort and charm packed into one address in Walterboro's Downtown Historic district. This solid 1940's brick home will wow you from start to finish- the nicely updated kitchen is a showstopper all the way down to the antique wood floors that flow throughout most of the home. The vintage black and white tile bathroom is also true to the era of this well built Lowcountry home. Enjoy three bedrooms, a large formal room large enough to hold sitting and dining engagements, and a cozy family room boasting a huge fireplace and access to the fenced in back veranda and yard. This home is walking distance to Walterboro's well known Washington Street (or as the locals call it - Main St). Don't miss this hidden gem tucked under the moss lined LiveOak trees! There is also a basement with access from inside the home- great space for storage.
