Description

Tahlequah is a southern plantation-style home on 155.71 acres. The 5200 square-foot home is at 1470' above sea level with a large porch overlooking Greenville and Spartanburg. When you enter through the double stone column gate, there is a paved 1/2 mile drive winding up the mountain to the four-bedroom four-bath, luxurious home with an inground custom-built pool. The main home consists of four bedrooms and four baths that were meticulously designed directly by an incredible architect and were custom-built. The home has 12-foot ceilings with incredible crown molding, a main-level master suite that has direct access to the outdoor pool area, surrounded by nothing but beautiful views and complete privacy, a grand library, multiple formal rooms to include a dining room and a large living room, a sunroom, a lower level spare-room with billiards room and an additional guest suite option with full bath access, and oversized, detached garage. There are multiple bedrooms and bathrooms on the upper level for guests with walk-in storage, a spare-room, and so much more! The property itself is truly a jewel in the state of South Carolina and does touch the Cliff's Properties. It possesses incredible views throughout and multiple natural spring water sources. You won't believe all the wildlife that exists on this incredible property, the natural beauty, and all of the effort that was put into the design. The property is covered with large hardwoods. There is frontage on Morgan Creek and Tahlequah Creek runs through the property. There is also a pond site that can be reclaimed for a 2-acre pond. The property goes up to 1650 feet and there are also a couple of waterfalls. This southern-style home is only 24 miles from Greenville, and 53 miles to Asheville. "Tahlequah" can be yours today with 155.7 acres of perfection right here in South Carolina!
