Description

Welcome to 24 Bay Point Way in Lake Boiling Estates! This unique lake access neighborhood is the hidden gem of Taylors made up of several 1 million+ homes with everyone owning at least 1 acre yet understated by an ungated drive down a small country road. At the end of this private street you will find this French Country inspired exterior all brick/stone 5 bedroom, 4 bathroom plus additional room home that has been completely remodeled. From the GE monogram appliances and oversized kitchen to the enlarged living area with a new fireplace every square foot has not been overlooked. This home is made to entertain family and friends with a large footprint in the living and great room space along with an expansive covered back patio adjoining the outdoor kitchen area. Don't overlook the pool house that has a full bath and would be perfect for a separate gym or even living quarters as it is a fully conditioned space. If all this is not enough you can walk across the street to the 13 acre private lake only available to homeowners where you will find neighbors and friends kayaking, fishing, or trolling around on their small engine boats. Bay Point is a true rare find so come see it today!
