Description

This house is remarkable. It's new construction. It looks like others in the subdivision, but it has Cathedral ceilings. It has stone accent on the front exterior. The master bathroom will have a separate shower and free-standing tub. The kitchen counters will be granite, and the master has a walk-in closet. Interior pictures are off a similar home. Home finishes will be similar, if not exactly like the photos. There is a no HOA and the community is fairly new. The older homes in the neighborhood appear less than 20 years old. The house sits back on nearly an acre tract. Add a pool. This community is country living but within seven miles of Walterboro and less than five miles from Cottageville. Check it out.
