Description

Just moments to Hampton Park, 798 Rutledge is a 1930's three bed, one bath craftsman bungalow in the heart of the Upper Peninsula. A short distance to many of Wagner Terrace and North Central restaurants, parks and businesses, this spacious cottage sits on a large 0.14 acre lot with a rare detached garage, plenty of off-street parking and a full-sized, shaded front porch. The first floor opens into a large formal living room with a wood-burning fireplace. The flowing floorplan continues into a formal dining room, breakfast room and kitchen with updated stainless appliances. On the back of the kitchen is a mud and laundry room, which opens into the driveway and backyard. Additionally, there is a large master bedroom and two additional guest bedrooms which share a full, tiled bathroom. Hardwood flooring runs throughout with many original features intact, including arched doorways and a wooden telephone nook in the main hallway. The exterior of the property offers ample space to create your own oasis, store vehicles and boats, or simply enjoy as is. This well-located and lovingly maintained property is ready for your personal touch.
