Description

Welcome to 915 Palmetto Street, a stunning new home in the heart of Georgetown's charming and highly sought-after Willowbank neighborhood. This thoughtfully designed 3-bedroom, 2.5-bath home also features a dedicated home office and a desirable primary suite on the main level—perfect for modern living. Built in 2024 and still under the builder's warranty until August 31, 2025, this home offers peace of mind with a final walkthrough included for the new owner to address any punch list items directly with the builder. Since purchasing, the sellers have elevated the home with high-end upgrades throughout, including gorgeous lighting fixtures from Lee Lighting in Charlotte, replacing all standard builder-grade selections. The rear porch has been enclosed with real wood, creating a cozy, screened-in retreat complete with a custom screen door that opens to a fully fenced backyard—ideal for entertaining, pets, or simply enjoying the Lowcountry breeze. Thousands have been invested in new landscaping that wraps around the front and side yards, including the prominent corner where Orange Street meets Church Street. Abundant natural light pours into this corner-lot home, offering peaceful views of majestic live oaks and the picturesque cottages of Willowbank. This is a rare opportunity to own a bright, move-in-ready home in a truly special neighborhood. Just across Church Street, enjoy strolls along Georgetown's Historic Waterfront. Golf cart to restaurants, coffee shops, bakeries, boutiques, and more on iconic Front Street. Don't miss your chance to own a piece of Georgetown's charm—915 Palmetto Street is ready to welcome you home.
