Description

The waterfront views from both the front and back of this home are unparalleled, thanks to its distinctive location on James Island. The charming cottage at 924 W Oceanview, constructed in 1958, features a kitchenette, bedroom, and living space on the first floor. An interior staircase ascends to the main living quarters and kitchen on the second floor, which includes two bedrooms, a bathroom, an enclosed front porch with waterfront vistas, and multiple living spaces. The dynamic tidal scenery is teeming with marine life; during my brief stay, I've observed a variety of birds, dolphins, and even otters. Across the sand road lies a tract of land leading to piling and an old dock (refer to the survey provided by your agent).
